Watch her ride at the Angola Rodeo every Sunday in October 2022

We used this mare on the prison ranch for years. She was used as an all-around ranch horse (doctoring, sorting and tagging cattle) then raised a few babies that have become really nice ranch horses for us. She is a very stout made mare.

We brought her in from the pasture this summer and she hasn't missed a beat.

A high-quality breeding program has to have a high-quality foundation. The Angola state prison horse program has spent decades perfecting the lineage of superb foundation bred horses suitable to any discipline. It all starts with the right broodmare. Here's your opportunity to benefit from years of legendary bloodlines. Breeding season starts here!

Here is a fantastic young horse that has the brains, looks, and talent to be a phenomenal show prospect. Jimmy is a 3 year old gelding that stands 15 hands. Although he is young, he is far more mature than many horses twice his age. I got him directly from the family that owned his dam and sire and raised him from the day he was born. He was started by a professional and has been in training since then. This horse has a fantastic mind and simply wants to please. He lopes pretty circles both ways, he is a phenomenal mover, has lots of cadence, packs the bridle, and moves off of your leg. I think this gelding would be a prime candidate for all of the ranch riding classes. If you're not interested in showing and just want a kind horse, he would suit you as well. He loves people and has also had some experience on the trail. This horse sells 100% sound.

!!!SALE HIGHLIGHT/TOP-END HEAD HORSE PROSPECT!!!
Born and raised on Angola state prison farm. Purchased from Southwest Sale as a started 2-year-old. From 2 years old to 4, "Rip" was used working/penning cattle from pastures to the soggy marshes down the river. He was exposed to being bumped by wild cattle, using a bullwhip on him, pulling a few in the trailer, airboats and dogs. "Rip" has also been ridden numerous times in "Brushy Creek", Homochitto. He crosses through creeks, ravines, fallen trees and crossed bridges. He stays gentle and easy to ride, just point and go type of horse. From 4 years to now "Rip" has been developing into a solid team roping prospect. He has had 6 month of professional training where he was started as a heel horse but has excelled as a top end type of head horse. "Rip" is ready to haul, just hasn't been due to my busy work schedule. He is a gamer and won't be outrun by those fresh ones, but cowy and ratey enough not to get fooled by those slow ones either. Open and close all gates on him, stand tied all day, good for farrier, to bath and to trailer. Just as soon as feed a pretty one, promise you'll never get tired of looking at him either!

He has been ridden daily with multiple kids in the arena and all around the farm. He has also been hauled to playdays and kid rodeos and will go all day. He is a smaller horse that is not intimidating for little riders and has way more manners than the typical pony. He is also big enough for novice adults and is very forgiving. He will go wherever you point him and will cross water with no problem. He is quick on his feet but will go whatever speed is asked of him. When my 6-year-old kicks him up, he lopes right off and will go however fast she asks of him. He won't run off and he has a great stop, but he's not a dead head. We bought him with intentions of entering them in the POA barrel racing side pots, but he's borderline with his height as they have to be 52" or under to qualify. We believe he would be a great rodeo horse because he can run on any type of ground. Fast and quick in the turns. This gelding was professionally trained and for the past few years he was ridden by a novice barrel racer and let him start his turns too soon. With a little more tuning he should be out of that. We have hauled him to the shows and he acts like a perfect gentleman. He did not get excited about anything. This is a really good gelding looking for his person to trust and love him.

She will carry flags, cross bridges, go through ponds, anywhere you point her. Super sweet mare and easy and fun for just about anyone to ride. She also loves to work and sort cows. Experienced youth to adult preferable only because she will go if you ask. You don't stay in her face and let her do her thing. Wings has won my daughter multiple saddles, buckles and awards, but she is just ready for something a little bit faster. This one is perfect for a step up/teaching horse or keep her maintained (hocks annually) and go keep you some consistent placing money too. She can hang at the youth rodeos and still has a lot of time left to work as she has not had her legs ran off. Don't let her age fool you! She had the biggest heart and LOVES her job! And then when she gets done with a run, she will walk out of the alley same. She may put her head up a touch but that's it. Don't miss out on having this one take you to the pay window.

Want a nice, quiet, pretty gelding to go enjoy riding?

This is your guy!

He has been used to pen and sort cattle, so he is comfortable around livestock, ropes, and opens/closes gates.

He's not the fanciest riding horse but is honest and trustworthy!

Need to turn him out for a while and bring him back up? He will ride off no problem when you need him!

Would be suitable for beginner/intermediate riders and safe to go trail ride on.

He's got more "whoa then go" - turns around, stops, back up. Would consider him more using horse broke then "fancy broke" but reliable all the same.
